JAMES A GRAHAVE

The Retrenchment Policy of the Government. That the very few avowed opponent of the Government should seek to make light of the policy of retrenchment inaugwrated, and that their organ should echo the misrepresentations indulged in on the floor of the House, with a view to prejudice the minds of members and influence public opinion, was only what everybody expected. They affect to scout the idea that a reduction in the public expenditure as proposed in the Chimates for 1878, compared with 1872, will be effected by the present Administration, and by a process of reasoning excusable only on the ground of endeavoring to make the better part appear the worse, conjure up rows of the most fallaclous figures to give color to their misstatements. The unfair manner in which the members for Nanaimo, Cowichan, and the senior member for Victoria city dealt with the comparative statement of salaries, by departments, showing the sums voted for the year 1872, and those entire ated for 1873, shows to what Tengths gentlemen will sometimes permit themselves to go in order to gain a point defeat a measure. It is the easiest thing in the world to controvert facts, but they cannot be disproved. It is one thing to make reckless assertions, but it is quite another thing of J. Egerton Curtis, Esq, to convince those who hear them that THURSDAY, Feb. 13, 1873. they are substantially true. So with the corporal's guard of oppositionists. They haggled over the various items in the Estimates, marking in every case what they supposed to be a weak point and then opened their batteries against the Ministerial position, with the most disastrons results to themselves. The , members of the House were not so blind that they could not see through the clouds of oratorical chaff that these gentlemen had occasioned, and when the vote was taken at the close of a lengthy debate it was overwhelmingly in favor of the Government. But even if the Opposition had made out a good case, when they undertook to show that the retrenchwent policy of the Government would not give within some thousands of dollars the results they claimed it would that would not affect the main principle upon which they took office, viz, that the cost of administering the affairs of this B young Province was very much greater of than it should be, or than there way any real necessity for, and that it should be reduced to the lowest practicable limit consistent with a due regard for the effi- Salesroom, Wharf Street, conduct of public affairs. Whether the reductions that have been made will or will not net a saving to the country Saturday Feb. 8, 1873 on salaries account of $36,225, must hereafter be determined ; but thing is quite certain, a very large saving will be effected as compared with previous years. This Government is the first to take a step in the right direction—the thin end of the wedge has been inserted, and we fully · expect to see it driven farther in year by year, until retrenchment has done its work and lopped off every useless branch in every department of the public service, and the basiness of the country is conducted on something like sound commercial principles. Some thirty officials of various grades have already been relieved of duty, and protably next year will witness a similar curtailment of superfluors officers in the service of the Government, ja23 and when the aggregate salaries of these gentlemen, thus saved, are devoted to public improvements and to the development of the country's resources, we may with some degree of confidence hope to see the country go ahead and prosper.

Memory presides over the past. Fell's Coffee over the present. The first lives in a rich temple hung with glorious trophies, and lined with tombs, but Fell's Coffee has but one shrine and that is every breakfast table. Its arema walks the earth like a spirit and can be found for sale at every respectable. can be found for sale at every respectable dealers in British Columbia. Beware of spu-sions imitations.

The dismissal of so many gentlemen from nothe public service is not a matter over which we feel disposed to rejoice. We rather sympathize with them, and regret that the circumstances of the country should render it necessary. But in so doing the Government have discharged

SPREAD OUR RESOURCES.

Mr. Cogan moved. That the dissemination abroad of information respecting the agricul-tural, mining, lumber, fishing, and other industrial resources of the Province, with the object of encouraging Immigration hither, is highly desirable, and that a pamphlet in a compendious form, embracing such information, ought to be prepared and disseminated abroad, but without incurring other expense than such as may be provided for in the Estimates for the current year.

The hon. mover said it was highly important that all the information possible, conbefore the public in pamphlet form. He would suggest that some be printed in the German language for distribution in Ger-

Mr. McCreight contended a discussion was go ting up this pamphle'. The suggestions to publish in foreign languages were good, and he hoped the resolution would pass.

Mr. Booth saw no objection to this suggestion; the resolution and the suggestion would be productive of good.

Mr. Smith did not see what class of immigrants was required. The place was swarming with all sorts, and there was nothing for. tham to do; they might do with a couple of brewers, perhaps "compositors,"—well, the hon, the Premier could say something about them. Mr. Smith went over the list of trades and professions, and could not see that there was room for any. He would suggest

He claimed to having placed more settlers on the soil of British Columbia than ever the Government had done. The money expended on agents and immigration, he said, was thrown away. [Half an hour of the time of the House was taken up in listening to the above speaker.] Hon. Mr. Armstrong wished to know if Mr Humphreys was speaking to the question. Mr. Smithe moved-That a Select Committee be appointed to draft a bill to provide for the privileges and immunities necessary to be enjoyed by the Legislative Assembly cf this Province; Committee to be composed of the following members:-Messrs. Walkem, McCreight, Robson, Semlin, Duck, and only desired to aid the House in finding out its privileges and supporting it in the same. Mr. Booth believed he was quite as anxiess to maintain the dignity and privileges of the members as any other member but thought, however, that a matter which had been considered of sufficient importance to be referred to the Crown lawyers of England and by them disallowed ought not to be appreached hastily. He thought members ought to consider why it had been disallowed before they undertook to frame a new one. He had carefully examined the State documents and had come to the conclusion that the objection was not so much against allowing certain privileges as it was to any Province claiming any inherent right to such im-munities. He believed that if such were the real objection, no bill passed by the House affirming that right would be entertained and the proper course would be to ask the House of Commons to pass an Act empowering the Provincial Assembly to legislate on the matter. The intention of the Imperial Government was no doubt to create and maintain one central authority in the Dominion. Mr. Robertson feared the hon. gentleman misapprehended the question. The late bill was unconstitutional in one degree; legislatures have certain privileges and immunities. Hos. Mr. Walkem hoped the senior member for Esquimalt would be placed on the Committee, and asked that his own name be removed, as he had not the time to attend.

Mr. Robertson was substituted on the committee for Hon. Mr. Walkem.

The resolution was carried. HOUNDING THE HARP.

Clause 1. Mr. Holbrook sail that certainly clergymen should be exempt; they were paid for work. He didn't like the bill at all. He had lived u a country where they had three Sundays a week, and the people were not compelled to keep them. He had no objection that a Municipality should deal with the question, but he couldn't favor a general Act.

Mr. Smith said they had an Act already in force, and there was no use for this bill. Victoria was a most moral city, and yet the Mainland was ahead of it. There might be

Mr. Robson said this reply meant nothing.

Hon. Mr. DeCosmos said a communication had been had, and the Dominion Government was waiting further information.

Mr. Humphreys would oppose the adoption of the report. [Another personal and silly tirade against the hon, the Premier.]

Mr. Mara in the chair. The amendment moved by the hon member for Nanaimo to amalgamate the Treasury which had induced him to bring up the amenement, at some length. He did not for a Minister of Agriculture or immigration, he wished it were otherwise. (Hear) He sincerely hoped his resolution would be carried, for he was quite sure the Provincial : ecretary would have plenty of time to discharge the new duties and his own as well. (Laughter.) Mr. Holbrook could not support the amendment, it was very necessary that the Mainland should have some representative in the Cabinet. [Hear, hear.] They wanted some one there who would attend to their interests, and be thought that the proposed new Minis-ter would find himself very well employed by turning his attention to so important interests as agriculture, immigration and finance. The hon, gentleman went on to advocate the opening in Victoria of a labor exchange; it was a pet scheme of his own and he would like to see it consummated. He thought, Hon. Mr. DeCosmos said the Government however, that the salary proposed to be given would move that the amount be reduced to $3.000. Hon. Mr. DeCosmos said he was sure the House was thankful to the bon, member for land. himself had advocated them as far back The ho as 1867; but they had never been handed in, simply because there had been no one to collect them. The government had only two sources to provide for immigration, the first was the revenue, which, as would be seen by the Estimates, had been almost consumed in other ways, leaving the Government only $5 000 to devote to this important object; Mr. McCreight said that on certain heads the other source was public lands, mines, there was no doubt but they had power to &c., and it was the intention of the Governland laws so that lands could be value to the office. Mr. Humphreys did not think the new portfolio was so much of a necessity as the hon. Premier and other hon. members seemed to think. He believed it was only a political move on the part of the Government to add strength to their ranks and defy future just opposition. The country would find it out to their sorrow at a not very distant period, [Laughter.] There was no earthly use for the creation of this fourth portfolio. and such an action would be perfectly inde-

The hon, Premier, replying to Mr. Humdepartments in 1867, it must be remembered that then those heads were immovable, but now heads of departments held their positions by so elender a tenure that they were under very much greater expenses and here. that then those heads were immovable, but now heads of departments held their positions by so slender a tenure that they were lice, $1,752: Gaoler, $1,104; First Assistant Gaoler, $912 50; Turakey, $720; Senior frequently to visit the country and their constituencies, gaining information and looking to the wants of the times. The House reassembled at 7:30, p. m. COMMITTEE OF SUPPLY.

Mr. Robson offered an amendment on the item providing for the salary of the Attorney General. He would move that the amoun $2 500, be struck out, and that of $1500 be insert d. He thought that with practice, fees, and the amount on the Estimates, the hon. Attorney General would be getting far

What business, he would like to know, was it to t e hon, member for Nanaimo, whether his private means, either from practice or a min-ing claim, were $1,000 or $10,000? If Mr. Robson had had a portfolio offered him in the Ministry, was it to be supposed for one moment that he (the hon. Attorney General) or any other member, would go down to the Colonist office and enquire as to what his means were, from that paper. He thought it was a most und gnified question for the hon-member for Nansimo to have presumed to member for Nanaimo to have presumed to ask; he was sorry he had been the first to introduce it into the House, and the sooner such an unbecoming state of things—he might say such an insult to this House—was ing a thing which ought never to have exto the new Minister was too high, and he isted. $500,000 at least; and tried to show that the Province was not in a position to undertake such a work. I contended that the importance of the work justified its being made a position. St. Andrew's Church building is, from its acoustic properties, peculiarly well adapted for the effective rendering of vocal ter's Point Dock, at San Francisco, cost $382,000; and that it was difficult to see why a similar dock should cost more new; and that the best way to obtain correct in-formation on these points would be to refer the whole subject to a select committee, to enquire and report upon the subject. When that report came before the House—if upon a fair and impartial consideration—it could be shown, and the House decided, that the Province cannot undertake a Graving Dock, the fast named; inasmuch as it would lessen their pecuniary esponaltility. The Preliors, after mier's proposition was to increase their pecuniary tesponaltility.
